FLOWERS FOUND IN BOTH SMALL AND LARGE YARDS GROWING SUCCESSFULLY

A Drive About Bay St. Louis Discloses Delightful Summer Gardens Filled With Color and Fragrance—Vegetable Gardens Grow at Almost Every Home.

Flowers in many gardens despite the dry season are noted by any drive about Bay St. Louis, flowers in large yards and flowers in smaller gardens all lovely with their brilliance of color and fragrance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gerard who conduct the Old Spanish Trail Dairy, two miles from Bay St. Louis on the trail, have an interesting garden in which many flowers bloom including some of the prettiest sweetpeas noted anywhere, Benjamin Kant, Marshal Neil, pink and red Radiance roses, poppies, dahlias, daisies, Easter lilies, chrysanthemums, to mention part of flowers in the garden. A pleasant home is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Genard in which all modern conveniences including running water and telephone are found, a country residence with town conveniences, it might be called. They operate a successful dairy with nine cows.

A group of four houses adjoining on Ballantine street deserve special mention for the pretty flowers in the gardens. There are: Mr. and Mrs. Forest Ploux; the place owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Ploux and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Smith; Mrs. Anna Treuter; and the place owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fayard and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Winters. Mrs. Ploux has phlox, larkspur, poppies, petunias, roses, carnations, all in blossom now in such profusion that they are strikingly pretty. Plants coming on for later blooming are: marigolds, chrysanthemums, daisies. The vegetables in the back yard are interesting. On a plot of ground about 6x10 feet were grown 120 large onions which were taken from the ground this week. Tomatoes, peppers and other vegetables are growing. Three pecan trees are also planted. Hany potted plants including some fine geraniums, ferns and begonias are also grown.

At the Smith home are found poppies, especially lovely pink and red verbenas, petunias, larkspur, cannas, all in flower. A small cape jasamine bush grown from a cutting is blooming this year for the first time. Here are found tomatoes and other vegetables and some trees.

Mrs. Treuter has an unusually interesting garden with its flowers at the front and east, including, roses, althea, jetunia, coreopsis, phlox, glaalthea, petunia, coreopsis, phlox, glasies, zinnias, yellow lilies rose of montana and others, and with a fine bed of tomatoes and beans to the west and in the rear almost every part of the ground covered with trees. Several peach trees are bearing, a scuppernong vine which bore last year for the first time, pear and pecan trees, all young but growing well. Here are found a variety of potted plants also.

The gardens at the Winters home is just beginning to be planted to various plants for the first season and only annuals are found but giving promise in another year or two be equal to its neighboring gardens.

Vegetables Noted

It would be impossible to mention the many fine vegetable gardens noted about the Bay but special mention is due the fine plot planted at the Frank Bermond place by Frank and Rene Bermond where corn, watermelons, cucumbers, beans, Irish potatoes, pumpkins, egg plants and other vegetables thrive.

Between the rows of fine pecan trees on the A. A. Scafide place are planted many vegetables including corn, beans, cucumbers and melons and fine crops of truck are being produced there.

E. J. GEX IS SPEAKER AT ROTE CLUB

Visualizes Bay St. Louis After Completion of Proposed N. O. Short-Cut Route

Visualizing the immediate future of the Bay-Waveland district and contiguous territory with the establishment of the proposed short-cut route to New Orleans from the Gulf Coast, E. J. Gex, well-known local attorney, was principal speaker before the Bay Rotary Club Wednesday noon at Hotel Weston and told of the immediate and vast benefit to redound to the benefit of this section.

"Bay St. Louis, from this section to Bayou Cadde," said the speaker, was to flourish like the proverbial green bay tree with the establishment of the short cut route. For we are essentially a suburb of the big city," he continued, " and will be that more so after building of the road."

Mr. Gex said that we spoke of and longed for smoke stacks and other things that meant pay rolls for this section. And that we failed to realize that the biggest city in the South, with its many smokestacks and industries and many pay rolls were at our very door. It was the working people that made the money, he said, and it was the working people who spent it. He said people who traveled by auto did not measure distances by mileage, but by time. One did not speak of how many miles one had to travel but generally said how long it took to get to a given point. Hard-surfaced roads meant quicker time, hence a shorter road, so to speak, and since he figured that later one could make the trip between New Orleans and Bay St. Louis in one hour and thirty-five minutes, thousands would flock to this section. With congested traffic, he said, it took about that time in New Orleans to get around the St. Charles Belt line.

New Orleans with its teeming of thousands, anxious to get out to the God-favored section, was a veritable mint to the Gulf Coast and that in more than one way. Elaborating on his theme he spoke for a while, and concluding was roundly applauded.

Mr. Gex paid a deserved and glowing tribute to this section, that he lived and had so planned to die here. There are many others and more would like to.

President McDonald commended the speaker for his timely and well-proposed remarks and said such inspirational talks served as a tonic to every true Bay St. Louis citizen.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY IS FIRST GIRLS SCHOOL IN STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Celebration of Diamond Jubilee Year Brings To Mind Bit Of History of Organization of Mission School Here By Three French Sisters.

St. Joseph Academy, the oldest Catholic school and likewise the oldest school by any organization for girls in the state of Mississippi, located on beautiful Bay of St. Louis, will celebrate its 75 or diamond julilee this year. Plans are under way to observe this diamond jubilee with the building of a much needed gymnasium and class building, permission for which was granted last fall by the mother house of the order of St. Joseph in Bourg, department of Ain, France, and a nucleus for a fund having been started most appropriately by a group of the pupils of the school and this added to materially by the recent bazaar and other gifts from friends. It is hoped to have this building under way and ready for the celebration in the fall of this year.

Observance of the diamond jubilee brings to mind a brief history of this famous educational institution where hundreds of girls have received their training both mental and moral for many years under the supervision of sisters of the order of St. Joseph.

A volume on this history of the order tells of the appeal of Rev. Stanslaus Buteaux to the order in France to send to America as missionaries sisters and was answered by three sisters, Mother Eulalia, Sister Anatole and Sister Gonzaga, volunteering for mission service. They left the home convent at Bourg, November 30, 1854 in a sailing vessel and landed in New Orleans December 30 where they consulted with Archbishop Blanc and were taken to the Ursuline Convent for a brief rest before again sailing ,this time in a smaller vessel, to Bay St. Louis where they landed January 5, 1855.

The missionary priest who first had the vision to see the need of a mission school conducted by sisters here, Rev. Buteaux, was in charge of mission work from Indiana to Louisiana, this including the Mississippi territory. The story is told that he travelled in France and met Monsigneur Charlandon, later vicar general of Metz, an that remembering him, several years later asked his assistance in having the sisters come to Bay St. Louis, and that through the intercession of the French friend Mother Saut Claude, superior general of the order of St. Joseph in France, granted permission for the first sisters to come to this country.

These first three sisters to Bay St. Louis were the first of the order in this country, though in the fall of the same year sisters of St. Joseph located in New Orleans and later in Baton Rouge and other points.

St. Stanislaus College is one year older in its foundation than St. Joseph's Academy.

The first three sisters who came to establish a school here opened a day school at Waveland, and a sewing class was established at Bay St. Louis during their first year here, one small room serving the sisters as classroom, sewing room and dining room. It must be remembered that these sisters di dnot speak English, that there were few to support them here and that they suffered great privations in order to carry out their mission. The first small building in which the sisters met in Bay St. Louis stood on the site of the present handsome convent building. When the convent was built the small building was moved to the rear where it stood until two years ago when it was torn down and the timbers from it were used to construct a servant's cottage to the rear of the convent.

The first large boarding school was destroyed November 16, 1907 and the present handsome building was erected following the fire. During the War between the States the sisters remained at the convent but no school was taught. The golden jubilee was celebrated June 24, 1905 while Mother Augustine was superior. This same Mother Superior was here during the fire and directed the building of the new convent. She died July 1927, and was succeeded by Mother Claire who is now superior.

There have been nine Mother Superiors at the convent, serving in the following order: Mothers Eulalia, Esperance, Thomaide, Alphee, Joanice, Desiree, Euphrasia, Augustine and Claire. Mother Eulalia is honored as the first superior who founded the convent and directed the convent in its earliest days. Mother Alphee is remembered as having had the artesian well dug. Mother Joanice had all buildings repaired, erected a center building joining the boaring and day schools. Mother Euphrasia had the sewage system installed, the acetylene gas plant installed and the hall enlarged. She is now residing in New Orleans. Mother Augustine had the present building erected after the fire. Mother Claire, the present efficient and much beloved head of the convent, is directing the plan for the erection of St. Joseph's Memorial Gymnasium building.

From a mission with three sisters the convent has grown to a constituency of 16 sisters now residing at the school. All phases of literary work are taught at the convent school and it is known throughout the South for the high type of work done in all branches and for the excellence of its teachers.

Bay St. Louis is justly proud of the school and will stand behind the new building plan for the new building as the diamond jubilee gift.

Our sympathy goes out to Louisiana now that its State legislature is in session, and like poor Mississippi's body of lawmakers is torn assunder by factionalism.

However much some folks may think so, there is not one bit of foundation for the belief that Al Smith is responsible for the fact that times are hard and so many people are without employment.

A North Carolina woman has 120 quarts of pre-war liquor and does not know what to do with it. Wonder if she has an acquaintance with any pre-war topers. They could, and would gladly, tell her what to do with it.

Lester Franklin's trial on impeachment charges may result in acquital, but if so, ninety-nine out of every hundred Mississippians will still be of the opinion that it would be just another case of a guilty man escaping conviction.

Mrs. B. C. Herron of Biloxi will head the Mississippi Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy for another year, having been re-elected president at the closing session of the thirty-fourth annual state convention held last week.

Government statistics reveal that 55,000,000 people in the United States have savings bank accounts and 65,000,000 carry life insurance. That shows a large per cent of our population is thrifty and making provision for those dependent on them.

The Savings Bank and Trust Company of Ittabena, Miss., closed its doors Monday and its affairs have been taken over by the State banking department. The failure of the institution is attributed to persistent gossip and misrepresentation on the part of enemies of the bank.

A couple of Stone county youths, white boys, were arrested in Biloxi last Friday as they were seeking to dispose of beef from a cow they had stolen and butchered. They are in jail and a penitentiary sentence will be given them when court next convenes.

Governor Bilbo and Hon. W. F. Bond State Superintendent of Education, are to meet in joint debate at a Fourth of July picnic in Pike county. It will doubtless be an interesting affair and well worth attending, as the two men were former fast friends but now sworn enemies and both candidates for the same office.

There is no statute in our law books which should be more rigidly enforced than that prescribing heavy penalties for setting fire to the woods and it seems that its enforcement is determined on by both officials and land owners. A few convictions and imposition of maximum sentences inflicted on such offenders will put a stop to the practice.

A Chicago woman sued her "hubby" for divorce. She was awarded a decree, a three million dollar house and a million yearly alimony. None of our Bay St. Louis wives can ever hope to be as lucky, though no doubt some of them would value freedom from their marital bonds at even far more than the Windy City dame received.

Seventeen more South Mississippi counties have been declared tick free by Dr. Hartwell Robbins federal inspector. "It won't be long now" before the remaining counties are released from quarantine and then our State will make rapid strides toward becoming the banner milk and dairy products commonwealth of the whole Union.

Several old and familiar faces will be missing from the United States senate when it convenes for its next regular session. Gillett of Massachusetts, Gould of Maine, Phipps of Colorado and Goff of West Virginia, all "old guard" Republicans and each of whom are voluntarily retiring to private life. Now who was that once said that "few office holders die and none resign?"

Over in Sherman, Texas, a mob set fire to the county courthouse in order to secure a negro rapist who was confined in a vault, the sheriff, deputies and rangers being powerless to prevent the mob's action. Today Sherman is under martial rule, while a dozen or more of the mob are under arrest. Many of the participants in this latest exhibition of mob violence were high school boys, so we are informed through press reports. Think of it, "high school boys" taking part in the most disgraceful act of mob violence in the history of a great state!

The Literary Digest straw vote on the prohibition question is giving the people of these United States something to think about. As a test of sentiment on the question it reveals that the majority of the voters favor modification and outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Strict enforcement advocates are still proclaiming that the sole purpose of the poll is in the interest of the "wets" and the selection of names to whom ballots were sent by the Digest was confined to persons known as opponents of the law. The Echo cannot believe that such reputable publishers as we know the Digest editors to be would be guilty of anything smacking of other than absolute fairness in the distribution of the ballots.

BANKERS AT GULFPORT

Representing practically every section of the State, the Mississippi Bankers Association convened at Gulfport this week in forty-second annual convention, with three members of the surviving twenty-nine who organized the association at Jackson, when that city was a village.

The first day's session was featured by three able addresses, that of President N. H. Crenshaw, "Industrialization of Mississippi," by L. A. Downs, president Illionis Central R. R. Co., and "The Southern Renaisance," by Dr. James S. Thomas, University of Alabama, of the three the last was by no means the least.

It is a great pity the laymen cannot attend these meetings and get the very meat of the addresses which form part of the deliberations. Too often those who might get more benefit and lasting effect from such discourses are only too frequently absent.

This body, Mississippi's bankers, are among the most representative of the State, for they represent every man and woman in different avocations of business and private walks of life. It has been said the banks breathe the very economic existence of a commonwealth and its people. Mississippi bankers are no exception. They have assisted to develop and foster every enterprise projected and accomplished. They are the very clearing house for every business man and woman.

Bay St. Louis banks were represented, Leo W. Seal, executive cashier Hancock County Bank, and president of the Coast Group and George R. Rea, president Merchants Bank & Trust Company, and member of the Executive Committee. Both gentlemen are actively connected with the Association in executive capacity, and thus Bay St. Louis finds outstanding representation.

The Association met last year in Biloxi and meeting this year at Gulfport well exemplifies the popularity of the Gulf Coast.

OUR COUNTY LEGION POST

The Echo notes with more than ordinary interest renewed activities of Bay St. Louis Legion Post by the fact that a drive for membership has been more than ordinarily successful and resolved that the Post in future will function to the fullest extent.

The Clement R. Bontemps Legion Post is the pride of the county. It represents in part the very flower of young manhood of Hancock county—those who valiantly responded to arms a decade or more years ago when the liberty and democracy of our people as a nation was threatened.

Memorial services to be held this Friday night in this city will honor the memory of those who have gone before, a tribute well worthy, and in paying respect to the dead let us not forget to pay regard to the organization of the living so well represented by the Post. Every consideration should be granted for the well-being and success of the Legionnaires in Hancock county, individually and as an organized body. Other counties have their legion posts—why not Hancock?

JUDGE PARKER'S NOMINATION REJECTED.

President Hoover's nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to fill a vacancy on the supreme court bench was turned down by the senate, the vote standing 31 to 29 against his confirmation.

There is no question concerning Judge Parker's qualifications as "a man learned in the law," just as there is no question as to fitness in every other respect to fill a seat in the highest court of the land. His failure to secure the great honor which President Hoover desired to confer on him can be explained solely on the ground that his confirmation was opposed by union labor leaders and the negro organization known as "the Association for the Advancement of the Colored People," and the thirty-one senators who voted to reject his nomination were afraid to antagonize the labor leaders and negroes. Such downright cowardice on their part deserves a rebuke more forcible and strong than The Echo would print for fear it would incur the displeasure of the postal authorities and bar its transmission through the mails.

Be it said to the honor and credit of the two Mississippi senators they voted for Judge Parker's confirmation.

The Pass Christian beach beautification workers are pushing ahead with their splendid work, and the additional attractiveness that is noticeable each day, by their work along the beach, is drawing high praise, keep it up. Only a few narrow spots remain unattended and it is expected that these will soon receive attention.—Pass Christian Tarpon.

The Echo prints the above just to show Bay St. Louis and Waveland owners of beach front property what is being done by their neighbors across the bay. Be it said to the credit of some of the people along our beach front they are trying to beautify—but, oh, they represent only a minority of owners who evince an interest in the matter of removing unsightly rubbish, weeds, etc., from in front of their property. Maybe the time will come when others will take up the work, and make the whole water front a sight pleasing to the eyes of all tourists as well as to every one else. At any rate, The Echo hopes such will be the case in the not very distant future.

According to a religious census just taken membership of churches in the United States showed a gain of 300,000 during 1929. While some individual denominations showed losses, most of the leading churches registered gains, as follows: Catholics 84,303, Baptists 53,333, Lutherans 62,932, Presbyterians 58,785, Disciples 34,553. "One thing stands out unfistakably" says Dr. Carroll, director of the tabulation, "the church is not dying, as some cynics would have us believe."

The State Oyster Commission has been engaged for some time in spreading fifty thousand barrels of shells on the natural reefs, and the Pass Christian Tarpon remarks that "100,000, or even 200,000 barrels should be planted annually". You are absolutely correct, Brother McKay.

BILOXI EXPECTING 50,000 VISITORS FOR CONFEDERATE REUNION

Biloxi, May 11.—The old Magnolia state will be host to the 40th Confederate reunion here at Biloxi June 3-6. Extensive preparations have been made to receive fifty thousand visitors on the Mississippi Gulf Coast during that period. This will be the first great reunion held in Mississippi and nothing will be left undone to make it the greatest of all.

It is quite significant that the reunion comes to the state which gave Jefferson Davis to the Confederacy, and to the city which is so rich in history. "Beauvoir" the last home of Mr. Davis on West Beach Boulevard, will be the principle point of interest for reunion visitors. The Church of the Redeemer, containing memorial windows to the Davis family, and where members of the family attended services, will be another place of interest. Th lighthouse, Fort Massachusetts, and the landing place of the early French explorers will all prove interesting to the throngs who will come from all parts of the United States to attend the reunion.

Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, Lieut. Governor Bidwell Adam, and Speaker Thomas Bailey will head the state officials at the reunion. A special committee authorized by the legislature, composed of members of the house and senate, will also officially represent the state. It is hoped that every town and city in Mississippi will be represented at the reunion.

Appropriations to stage and entertain the reunion have been made to date by the State of Mississippi, Counties of Harrison, and Jackson, City of Biloxi, and City of Gulfport. It will cost almost $60,000 to hold the reunion which is the most colorful of all conventions or meetings held in the United States.

Entertainment and special attractions will feature the reunion. Thousands who have never seen the Gulf of Mexico before will come to enjoy water sports. On the opening day, June 3 the great Bay of Biloxi bridge, connecting Ocean Springs and Biloxi, as part of the Old Spanish Trail, will be dedicated and opened to traffic. This bridge cost almost one million dollars, and is a concrete highway structure.

On the second day of the reunion, the wonderful new airport at Gulfport will be dedicated with a great aircraft display. Army and Navy planes will participate. On the third day, the Biloxi-Isle of Caprice Gulf Marathan swim will he held and the great reunion parade and a regatta will feature the fourth day.

The federal government will send seaplanes and naval vessels to both Biloxi and Gulfport. The entire Mississippi coast will be gayly decorated for the occasion. The parade takes place at 10 a. m. on the fourth day, Friday, June 6. Adjutant-General J. M. Hairston of the Mississippi National Guard will be the grand marshal.

More than fifteen bands will furnish music for the reunion. The most prominent is the famous U. S. Marine Band from Washington, being sent by special authorization of congress. Three bands have already been promised from Mississippi and more are expected.

Erection of Camp Sneed where 4,000 veterans will be quartered is already underway. In addition to the camp, veterans will be quartered in private homes and hotels along the Mississippi Coast. Business Manager E. R. Wiles is elated over the large number of hotels, apartments, boarding houses, etc., of Biloxi, Gulfport, and the other coast cities. The Sons of Veterans and Confederate Southern Memorial asociation will meet officially during the reunion. Most reasonable rates have been secured. Special rates are being offered by all railroads. Highway conditions are reported favorable at this time, especially along the Missisippi Coast, where all main arteries are paved.

General R. A. Sneed, a native Mississippian, who now resides at Oklahoma City, is commander-in-chief of the veterans. The Army of Tennessee department, which includes Mississippi, is under charge of General L. W. Stephens of Coushatta, La.

CRIME NEWS AND THE NEWSPAPER

The theory that the display of crime news in the newspapers has a stimulating effect upon crime, which fails an echo in the meeting of the Alabama Federation of Women's clubs, is a familiar one but it is founded upon an illusion.

Accompanying the crime news is news which clearly emphasizes the fact that crime is a losing business, imposing grief, hardships, loss of liberty, and, at times, loss of life.

In this connection, it may be proper to point out that one of the great elements of strength in the Bible is found in the fact that it chronicles the harsh aspects of life quite as freely as it tells of more gracious things. It tells of evils committed in violation of the Divine Law and of the penalties that follow such trangressions. It does not seek to gloss over the short comings of men but presented them in all their horrid aspects to the end that others may see what follows in the wake and thus be on their guard.

The duty of the newspaper is to report life as it is, chronicling the good with the evil, trying the while to lead the race into better ways through sane and constructive comment upon the influences that tend to lift or to lower the common ideals of the people.

Meanwhile there is no question but the certainty of publicity restrains many from doing evil who, were crime news suppressed, would freely indulge the criminal instinct. Many fear newspaper exposure more than they fear the law, and thus are held in restraint.—Tuscaloosa News.

Advertise anyway that suits you, but if you really have something to sell that the public can use at your price, newspaper advertising will do the work.

A $35,000.00 JERSEY BULL

Last week we were invited to Hillcrest Farms to see a "real bull." When we arrived at the barn, we were shown Standard of Oakland, a six year old animal, weighing about 1,800 pounds. Standard was rented by R. H. Crosby of Hillcrest Farms from B. H. Bull & Son, of Brampton, Ontario, at the fabulous price of $5,000.00 for six months. The owners of this animal have no price set on him and his value to the dairy industry of this country can best be measured by the price for which he rents and the insurance policy issued on his life. He is insured for $35,000.00 against accident or death from any cause. To appreciate the statements made in this story, one will have to see this bull. We suppose many bulls of this type could be seen at a stock show in some of the large dairying states, but we doubt if his equal has ever been on exhibition in Mississippi. To those of us who pin our faith to the dairy and cattle industry, the brief visit of this bull to Peary River county is an achievement within itself. It is worth the time of anyone interested in dairying to visit Hillcrest, see this wonder animal and some of the cows that are making records under the Pearl River county conditions and scientific handling.

On our way to the farm we asked Mr. Crosby what production he was getting from his cows. He stated from three to seven gallons per day. We accepted the minimum as a fact, but the maximum, we took with a grain of salt. After arriving at Hillcrest we insisted on seeing one of the seven-gallon cows and just before we concluded our visit we were taken to a small pasture where several cows were let out for "exercise," and there we were shown a cow whose record was seven gallons. After seeing the cow, if we had been told she would give ten gallons a day, we would not have argued the point. It would be an inspiration for every farmer in the southern section of the state to see what is being done on this farm, however, it would be folly for them to try to duplicate the work even on a small scale. Lessons in herd improvement, worth more than can be measured in dollars and cents, may be learned and used to good advantage.—Picayune Item.

POST OFFICE VAGARIES

Postmaster General Brown would increase the current postage rate from two to two and one-half cents in order to increase revenues $55,000,000 and thus lop off a large part of the estimated $100,000,000 deficit.

Personally, we are against the advance. The government is now paying subsidies, or their equivalent, to the air mail and the marine service. It is hardly just to charge up some bonuses as an expense of the post office.

While on the subject of postal rates it has always puzzled us to understand why the rate for aerial mail is five cents for the first ounce and five cents for additional half ounce. In a case that we know, first class material, mailed weekly, by air mail, takes fifteen cents if dispatched in one envelope and only ten cents if sent in two.—Exchange.

E. M. GAVIN OF RICHTON WILL BE A CANDIDATE

President Perry County Supervisors and Head of Richton Bank to Run For Highway Job

Richton, Miss., May 2.—E. M. Gavin, president of the Richton Bank and Trust Company and president of the Perry County Board of Supervisors, announced his candidacy today for highway commissioner for the Southern District subject to the action of the Democratic primary June 10th. Ever since this office was created by the legislature, Dr. Gavin's friends have solicited him to enter the race for highway commissioner but not until today did he consent to pitch his hat into he ring.

Dr. Gavin is 43 years old and a native of Clarke county. For the past several years he has lived in Perry county where he is regarded as one of the foremost business men in this section of the state. During the World War, Dr. Gavin served as a first lieutenant in France, returning to Richton at the close of the conflict to enter the lumber business. Disposing of his lumber interests a few years ago he became identified with the stock raising industry in and around Richton. His ability to handle big problems efficiently and economically led to his election three years ago as a member of the board of supervisors of Perry County when a big program was to be initiated. In this field he has also made an outstanding success.

In making his announcement today, Dr. Gavin stated that, if elected, he would endeavor to handle the affairs of the office in a strictly business manner, giving every person an equal show and pledged himself to work in each county as well as the building of main highways used by the traveling public. He also pledged himself to help pull Mississippi up out of the mud by giving peope as good highways as the taxpayers' money would justify.

Dr. Gavin is regarded throughout this section of the state as a broadminded, honest, dependable, efficient, economical business man, who has made an outstanding success of his own affairs. He is not a politician but a sound business man. His record is beyond reproach and he is regarded as "clean as a hound's tooth" in his public and private life.—From Laurel Leader-Call, Friday May 2nd.

CANDIDATE FOR

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER

FROM THE SECOND (OR SOUTHERN) DISTRICT

EFFICIENCY

BUSINESS MAN

President Perry County Board of Supervisors
President Richton Bank & Trust Company

STANDS ON THE FOLLOWING PRINCIPLES:

It is the same patriotic motive that prompted me in 1916 when I laid down my private business affairs and volunteered with the Mississippi National Guard to go to France and fight for Democracy, that prompts me today in capitulating to the insistent desires of many of my good friends over this district, and allowing my name to go before the qualified electors of this district as a candidate for office.

I have only the following promises to make. If I be elected to this very important position I shall weigh and consider carefully all matters coming before me in my official capacity and without fear or favor, take such action on same as in my best judgment is right and to the best interests of the State of Mississippi. I propose to endeavor at all times to comply with the law strictly. I shall at all times and in all matters be found standing, taking action and giving of the best there is in me, for the best interests of the tax payers of the State of Mississippi and Southern Supreme Court District, especially, so long as I am the representative of said district.

I wish to say further that if elected I shall back my own judgment while at the same time coveting any and all sound advice that may be given me in the interest of the tax payers of the State, but I propose to be my own Boss and use my own head. If you want information on my actions atfer I am elected you can come to see me, you will not have to go to any Engineer, Construction Man, Equipment Dealer, or dealer in Road and Bridge Building Materials, or any individual. I shall be a free lance. I am not connected with or interested in, either directly or indirectly any business, firm or corporation that contracts roads for construction or sells bridge or road building material or equipment, or any other article that is used for road building or maintenance puposes, therefore, I shall not be influenced by selfish interests in any of my actions.

Now, my good friends, I have made my position clear; take it or leave it; do as I propose to do; use your best judgment and be your own boss; investigate what each candidate stands for; watch the man that is out making promises. I, as Supervisor in charge of highway construction in my county, have been "fed up" and "stuffed" with promises in the past until the mention of them nauseates me. See that your Highway Commissioner is free from all entangling alliances, that he may have only the interests of the tax payers of this State at heart at all times and in all matters. Do not be misled, I am a big taxpayer, and I realize how it hurts. I want to see the State of Mississippi streaked with hard surfaced highways from north to south and from east to west, and I want it done as expeditiously as possible to be consistent with economy, efficiency and financial ability. The people of my county will tell you whether or not I insist on a dollar's worth for a dollar.

I believe that in planning highways the local tax payers and citizens interests should be considered as well as the through traffic.

This is my policy, right or wrong. If it causes you to vote for me, well and good. If it causes you to vote for someone else, I am of the same opinion still and will think just as much of you. I appreciate a man that votes his convictions.

I would rather be defeated than to be "hog tied" when I go into office.

I now leave it with my friends, I will not be around worrying you, but I do want to get around and meet you before the first primary on June 10th.

JOHN FRAIM

He is honest.

He is neither a politician nor a millionaire, but is a successful business man.

He isa practical construction man and knows how roads should be built.

He will build your roads economically.

You will get your money's worth under his administration.

Twenty-seven years of successful business management abundantly qualifies him to discharge the duties of Highway Commissioner.

He owns no stock or interest in any company selling oil, gasoline, asphalt, creosoted timbers, bridge material, cement, sand or gravel, or any other road materials, and he will not profit by the sale of same while building the roads.

This job cannot properly be run by a man sitting in a cushion chair; he must have personal experience in construction work—John has this.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

Our annual retreat came to a close Wednesday morning. Father Phillips, a Redemptroist, preached the retreat. He knows boys and he knows boys troubles. We are sure that many profited by the few short days. Resolutions taken will, we feel sure be held steadfast. We were all delighted to hear Father Phillips, we hope that next year he will again be with us.

The officers for the Sodality were elected at the meeting last Saturday. The results were as follows: Richard Doggett, President; Dominick Genard vice-president; I. Colatta, Treasurer; B. J. Lacour, Secretary; Pat Wilson, Henry Gasque, Robert Camors, Sam Ballard, Philip Jacobs and Lee Petrich. They will be formally installed at the meeting of May 31.

The annual Sodality outing will take place Thursday, May 22. Place has not been picked yet, but will be most likely announced at the Saturday meeting.

Father Lord of the "Queens Work" who is the National Director of the Sodality has invited St. Stanislaus to send a representative to act as a member of the Resolutions Committee. We have accepted this offer and feel happy to know that our local Sodality is so signally honored among all the schools in the South.

The play which is being presented Sunday evening is for the purpose of raising funds to send this representative to Chicago. Elsewhere in this issue you will find a story of the play with the cast of characters. We hope our many friends will help us along. We can assure them of a most pleasant evening. The play is not tiresome nor will it take up too much time. It will play about an hour and a half.

Swimming has begun. The longing and craving for the "ole swimming" hole has been appeased. Every one likes to go swimming even those who hate the sight of a shower bath. So many of the smaller boys are unable to swim that we heard rumors of their being put under an instructor. We are sure there could be found in the big yard volunteers for this work. They would find more pleasure while in the water and they would at the same time be doing a great favor to these little fellows.

* * Cousin Gene Comes Sunday * *

We wish to thank Mrs. Broome of Pass Christian who so kindly loaned us scenery and stage effects for our play which is being presented this Sunday evening.

CLERMONT RESIDENT DIES AT N. C.

John A. Bernos Dies While On Business Trip To Ashville—Was Widely Known.

A telegram from Asheville, N. C., Monday announced the death of John A. Bernos, at one of the hotels of that city at 7:30 o'clock that morning.

His daughter Olga, Mrs. George J. Muller, had left New Orleans the morning previously to be at his bedside. He passed away shortly after for he passed away shortly before she had arrived. His death was unexpected. It was learned later he had died from a form of septic poisoning. The remains, accompanied by his daughter, passed through Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning.

Mr. Bernos for many years represented a wholesale house at New Orleans, dealing in rice and sugar, and traveled the Atlantic seaboard States. He was well and widely known in every State embraced in this territory, and in Louisiana and this section of Mississippi.

The Bernos family, of New Orleans, have a home at Clermont Harbor, where Mrs. Bernos resides most of the time and of which place he was very fond, having built there one of the better and more comfortable homes.

The deceased was in his 65th year, native of New Orleans, and husband of Ophelia Estopinal, father of Mrs. George J. Muller, Mrs. W. B. Phillips, Mrs. T. W. Ball, Frederick P. and John A. Bernos, Jr.

Interment took place from New Orleans Wednesday afternoon at Greenwood Cemetery, with ceremony from the church of the Sacred Heart.

The passing away of John A. Bernos is noted with more than ordinary regret. He was a man of many sterling qualities. His friends were legion and the sincerity of his heart and the hospitality of his home were well nigh proverbial. He was, it might well be said, a devoted and most dutiful husband and father.

The funeral was largely attended and many floral offerings mutely and yet eloquently attested to that high esteem in which he was regarded by all who knew him. The family have the sympathy of the many who were grieved to learn of the demise.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

Exams and the Like.

Again we are facing the critical period in the life of every student—examination time—the night mare of every one, no matter mow thoroughly prepared they are, and the Scylla and Charybdis of the many so-called students where fond hopes and dreams of sailing by on a little knowledge, are wrecked.

However, whether we like it or not here they are, not far distant, and in these wildly exciting and highly hysterical times we are rushing around madly carrying our books under our arms hoping to gain a little knowledge by mere contact. But most of us, it is only fair to say, are doing some good, careful, thorough and well-planned reveiwing, and expect to go through, as usual, with colors flying.

The examinations from the Catholic University are scheduled to take place as follows:

At 9 A. M.
Religion, May 19.
Mathematics, May 20.
Latin, May 21.
History, May 22.
English, May 23.
French, May 24.
Chemistry, May 27.
At 2 P. M.
Bookkeeping, May 22.
Commercial Arithmetic, May 23.
Music, May 27.

Other Diversions Than Exams.

So far, we have had time to think of nothing but reviews, but when the responsibility of our exams will have been lifted from our shoulders, our minds, or what there will be left of them, will consequently turn toward other diversions, and more highly amusing ones at that such as picnics. Several are scheduled to take place in the near future and they are always such fun we can hardly wait for them.

But all we can do now, is to toy with the idea, sigh in anticipation, and turn the pages of our books wearily, wearily.

Reception Into Holy Angels Sodality.

A lovely sight was witnessed at Our Lady of the Gulf Church last Tuesday evening when forty-two tots including both boys and girls were received into the Holy Angels Sodality. Headed by their banner and all clad in white the children marched into the church singing a hymn to the Holy Angels. Our pastor, the Rev. Father Gmelch spoke touchingly to the children of their duties as members of the Holy Angels Sodality and of the great privilege which was being accorded them in admitting them into this society.

The reception was followed by May devotions and Benediction of the Mst Blessed Sacrament. All the singing was produced by the Sodality and was very pleasingly and sweetly rendered.

The majority of the new members received into the Sodality made their Private First Communion at the seven-thirty Mass Tuesday morning.

Checks Still Coming In.

We received three checks during the course of the past two weeks which caused our "gym fund" to leap ahead by several bounds. The first check was a donation from the Lady Foresters and amounted to $10.00. The second also for $10.00 represented the proceeds of a dance given by the Woodmn of the World Circle under the direction of Mrs. Maurigi and Mrs. Henry. The third check came from Mr. J. H. Saenger of the Saenger Amusement Co., of New Orleans. To these generous donors S. J. A. extends sincere thanks the while assuring these benefactors of her most earnest prayer.

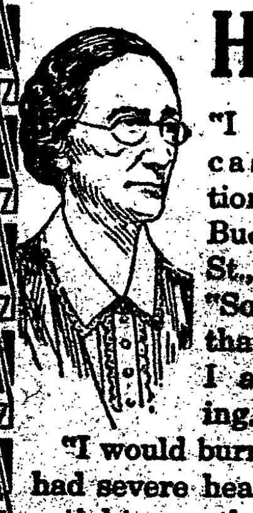
Why Is It?

That Smithy has taken to Whippor-wills?
That Lucia would like to banish bookkeping?
That Moss seems unable to keep track of a "lion?"
That Daniels enjoyed herself so much during the past week end?
That we have to take Exams?
That all the High School girls would like to have a "jerk" at (not with) the Washington Examinations?
That our knees are all ashake these days?
That the Seniors are getting so excited?



"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheister, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating.

"I would burn in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me.

"A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?'

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

TIMELY MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR THEO. BILBO ON FOREST PROTECTION

Criminality of Destroying State's Great Money Crop Results from Forest Fires—Burning Woods Nothing Less Than Financial-Suicide—A Plea For Conserving Mississippi's Greatest Area.

By Theo. G. Bilbo

Governor State of Mississippi.

"As I travel throughout our state and see on every hand the devastation that has been wrought through forest fires I am filled with sorrow to think that our people are so forgetful of their own interest; the interest of the young men and women now growing up and even of generations yet unborn as to go out and set fire to the woods and burn up and destroy young timber that Providence is trying to produce here as a provision for His people.

"When men destroy the natural resources of a country they not only commit financial suicide but commit a crime for which they themselves and their children will surely suffer in later years. Timber has been our state's greatest money crop. We have all shared in the benefits of this crop in one way or another, whether we owned timber ourselves or not.

"Millions of acres of lands that have been shorn of this crop and now lie idle and barren are not suited to anything except to grow timber and graze stock, and as I stated recently in a special message to the Legislature, tens of thousands of acres of such land will be turned back to the state for their taxes and become a burden on the state and on the people generally unless something can be grown upon them. Something must be done to make these lands productive so that their owners will continue to hold and pay the taxes on them, and so that the school, road, county and state taxing units may be able to collect the revenues necessary to meet the demands of a progressive government.

"I am interested in everything that concerns the welfare of our people, and there is absolutely nothing that will be of greater interest to our people generally than re-growing timber on our idle lands—not only as a means of making such lands self-sustaining but to produce raw material that will bring industries into different sections of our state that will give labor to our unemployed men. We positively must have pay roll producing industries to go along with our agricultural and other efforts.

"Unfortunately some men believe they are benefitted through the burning off of dead grass. This is a great mistake. The burning of woods never has benefited anybody and never will. Fire is an enemy to the stock man, to the farmer, to all kinds of game, and to the timber grower, and I believe if the man who himself has set fire to woods or had some one else do so would stop by the roadside and look at the murder he has committed; look at the little pines he has killed—baby pines that would grow into a resource for our country if protected,—then allow his better judgment to cause him to reflect he would hang his head in shame and pledge himself to do all in his power from this day on to right his wrong.

"It is hoped that every man who reads this will help to stamp out the curse of woods fires by first himself refraining from firing the woods and by using his influence to prevent others from doing likewise.

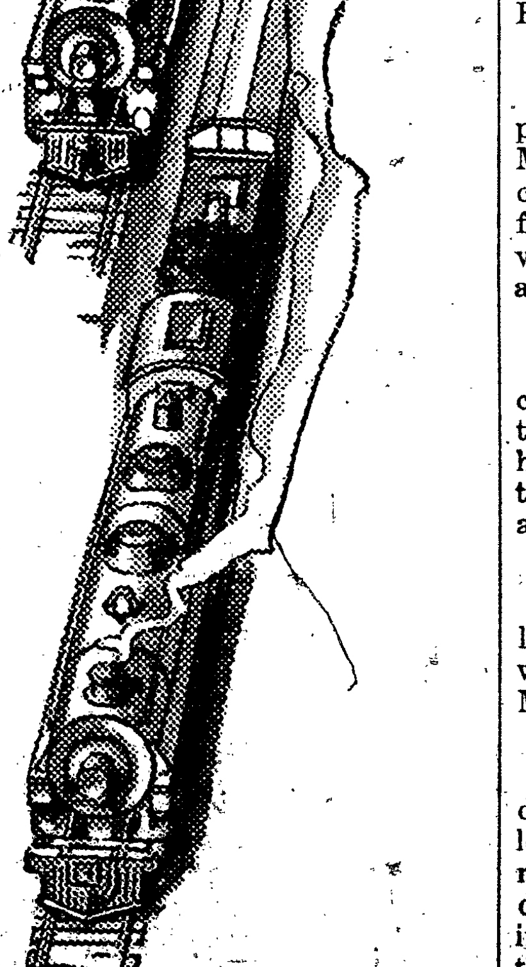
. . . . Quick Delivery of Merchandise Helps Make Your Dollars Go Further

One of the major merchandising developments of the post-war period has been the increasing stress placed upon rapid turnover of goods. In practically every line of business today, stocks are being purchased in smaller amounts than was the case a decade ago. Result: more efficient distribution, larger profit per dollar of invested capital, and, in most trades, lower prices to the consumer.

But rapid turnover of merchandise is necessarily based upon prompt, dependable, and regular delivery of shipments. The stream of goods must pass from manufacturer to wholesaler, to dealer and public, swiftly and freely. Here the railroads of America have contributed much to modern business.

The fact that the railroads last year attained 99.99% efficiency in the delivery of freight cars to shippers, and moved freight at a higher speed than ever before, stands as a real tribute to modern management. They also made 11 other new records of efficiency.

Each year the railroads have responded to the Nation's growing transportation needs with huge investments in trackage, rolling stock, and in bettering the service. Yet, while the rest of the country has been benefitted by the improved service, the railroads themselves have seen the return on their investments decline from 5.2% in 1926 to 4.9% in 1929—the year in which they handled more freight and rendered better service than in any previous year. The explanation lies in the growing burden of taxation, higher operating costs, and other conditions over which the railroads have no control.



L. & N. passenger representatives will consider it a privilege and a pleasure to assist you in the planning of your vacation or business trips. They will gladly quote fares, provide resort literature, give reliable information as to train schedules, and, if you desire, make advance Pullman reservations, arrange for tickets, and assist in various ways in formulating travel plans.

PUNISHING THE GUILTY

There was gawky humor—or was it ready wit—in the remark of a boy who, coming home one Sunday afternoon with a string of trout, was suddenly confronted by the minister. There was no way of escape, so the boy rose to the occasion. "Minister," he exclaimed, "d'ye see what the trouts got for nabbin' worms on Sunday?

The minister went on his way—rejoicing.—American Boy.

HE DIDN'T SEE IT DONE

"Luther," said the Sunday School teacher, "can you tell me who made all these beautiful mountains and fields?"

"I don't know," replied Luther, "I just moved here."

CITY BUYS IN ALL OF LAND DELINQUENT FOR TAXES AT SALE

No Bidders at Recent Sale—Property Bought in By Municipality For Taxes Due.

It is not generally known but nevertheless a fact. At recent sale by the city of delinquent tax property there was not a bidder and all property advertised was bought in by the municipality for amount of taxes due. Should the land be redeemed by the original owners within the time prescribed by law, then, according to a recent order, the amount collected is to be deposited in the general funds of the city. Amount involved, including damages, etc., is $717.56.

A resolution adopted by the commissioners Monday morning, in regular session, covers the subject, as follows:

"Whereas it was necessary for the city to purchase certain lands at the tax sale in the name of the City of Bay St. Louis, and

"Whereas these taxes for which the property was sold was to cover the levy of various funds and to pay the damages and costs of sale, and,

"Whereas it is necessary that the amount be derived, prorated, and paid in the manner of the levies, damages and costs.

"Therefore be it resolved that a warrant issue out of the general fund of the City of Bay St. Louis to F. H. Egloff, tax collector in the sum of $717.56, and the said F. H. Egloff, tax-collector be and is hereby authorized and directed to distribute said funds in the same manner and form as though the taxes were paid

"Be it further resolved that when the said land is redeemed from the said sale that the amount collected be deposited in the general funds of the City of Bay St. Louis."

ROTARY DELEGATES RETURN FROM DIST. MEET AT LAKE CHAS.

Returning from the meeting of International Rotary, for the Seventh district, held at Lake Charles, La., last week, Bro. Peter, president-elect, and A. A. Scafide, secretary-treasurer, of local Rotary, were speakers before the club Wednesday and outlined the high spots of the convention. Mr. Scafide told what a fine meeting it was.

Bro. Peter was chairman of Boys' Work Committee, an honor worthily and fittingly bestowed. The keynote of his address at Lake Charles to the convention was, tell the boy of the better side of things, to strive for these and what they meant, not to condemn him for his weaknesses neither to crimp his hopes and ambitions with the don'ts we are only too prone to do.

Gulfport in all likelihood will get the next bi-State convention. The international convention will be held in Chicago beginning June 23.

During 81 years members of the club have sailed Lake Pontchartrain, Lake Maurepas, Lake Borgne, the Mississippi and the Gulf. It has been commanded by 27 commodores. The buildings and other property in West End are valued at more than $250,000 with furnishings valued at more than $50,000. It has one of the largest ballrooms in the South.

Both men weighed in at about 160 pounds.

In the hardest-fought bout on the program, "Young" Dean of Logtown battled four rounds to a draw with Bill Johnson of Bay St. Louis, who was substituting for Bobby Tucker of Pass Christian. "Young" Cobb of Biloxi and Paul Favre of Bay St. Louis put up another good fight, which Cobb won by a knockout in the fifth round. The "Young" Bell-"Young" Ladner match was called no contest and the boxers money held back when Ladner refused to go on with the fight. ANOTHER NOTCH IN JOHN FORD'S GUN

Director's Latest Film, 'Born Reckless' One Of Year's Best Productions.

Making a talking picture that is at once an absorbingly dramatic and engrossing piece of entertainment, and a film document of immense value, would seem to be an impossible task. In "Born Reckless," however, John Ford's Fox Movietone drama of gangland at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, the director has achieved just this result.

For the first time in screen history the modern gangster is portrayed as he really is—neither heartless, cold-blooded killing-machine nor a saccharinely sentimental youth, always ready to renounce the error of his ways—but a human being, warped by his environment but loyal to his companions and his rigid code.

When Louis Beretti and gang are captured by the police, he and two others are given a chance to redeem themselves by answring the call to the colors.

At the training camp Beretti becomes the buddy of a young millionaire who is killed in France. Beretti has promised to help the boy's sister if she should ever need assistance. After the armistice, he starts a speakeasy, and prospers, even though his rather hopeless love for his dead buddy's sister, now happily married to a man of her own class, keeps him "off" other women.

When the gang kidnaps the sister's baby, the gangster finds himself in a difficult position. With his feelings toward the girl and his promise on one hand and his loyalty toward the old gang on the other, not to mention the fact that any interference is bound by the underworld code to bring about his own death, the stirring climax of the picture begins, to end only when the leader and his pal "shoot it out" in an intensely dramatic ending.

MARGIE ROSE BEUHLER DIES WEDNESDAY A. M.

Margie Rose Buehler, two-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Buehler of Esterbrook Street, died at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning following a few hours illness. The child suffered a heart attack about midnight Tuesday night from which she did not rally. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, 2 o'clock, from the home, Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf church, officiating, and interment was at St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. Beuhler is a well known local contractor.

THE LAND OF GEX

This article, from the editorial page of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, appeared Wednesday and is of double interest since descendants of the Gex family reside in Bay St. Louis, prominently connected and known over the state, as well as in Louisiana. The article follows:

The "Pays De Gex" has again gotten back into the international limelight. This "Land of Gex" is a district in upper Savoy, adjacent to the Swiss border, that owing to its peculiar topography is virtually cut off from the rest of France and economically is in the lay of the Swiss city of Geneva. The condition was so obvious that for generations it was found to the advantage of the Gex region for France to throw the district into a free zone with Geneva so that it could buy and sell with the Swiss city without restriction other than the minor octroi examinations applied by the Genevese municipality. The Gex-Geneva agreement had to be renewed this year but, as we commented at the time, France and Switzerland procrastinated and no agreement was reached by May 1, when the existing arrangement would have expired by limitation. However, the court of international justice has agreed to give the nations two more months to make their cases, failing in which Gex and "Geneva" will become to each other strictly alien lands, to the distress of both.

Val Cuevas, nine-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cuevas, was taken to the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital early Wednesday morning. His condition was considered critical and Wednesday afternono he was taken to Touro Infirmary for treatment.

Mary Elba Marshall with an average of 93.95 per cent of her class at the Bay St. Louis High school this wil be valedictorian; William Dalton Hys, Jr., whose average is 92.37 per cent will be salutatorian and Edris Vairin, average 91.11 per cent and Katie Watts, average 90.11 are the other two honor students of the class. Announcement of these honors were made this week by Superintendent S. J. Ingram.

Mary Elba Marshall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall; William Dalton Hays, Jr., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hays; Edris Vairin is the granddaughter of J. W. Vairin with whom she resides; and Katie Watts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watts. Each of these students have done excellent work, having taken part in various extra-curricula activities during their school years and each having taken more than the required five subjects each year of the four high school sessions, thus they will graduate not with the required 16 units but with 17 and 17½ units. Mary Elba Marshall and Katie Watts have played basketball throughout their high school years each year have won places at the regional field meet in literary events. Edris Vairin has the distinction of a perfect attendance record each day of six school sessions. BAY HIGH COACH RESIGNS FROM POST FOR NEXT SESSION

Coach C. E. Craft, athletic director at Bay High school, announced Monday that he would not return to the school next fall. He stated that he planned to take over the administrative instead of the coaching duties at his next position. No one has been definitely chosen to take his place, although several men are under consideration.

Coach Craft came to Bay High in 1928 from Petal, Miss., where he had made a good record as football and basketball coach, succeeding O. L. Brooks at Bay High. Craft received his athletic training at the University of Mississippi, under Coach Sullivan.

During his two-year stay at Bay High Coach Craft's football teams won the Gulf coast regional class B championship twice without being scored on by class B opponents either year and with an average last year of 21 points a game against class B teams. Besides football, Coach Craft also turned out strong teams in basket ball and track.

Rev. O'Connell To Speak

Rev. Geoffrey O'Connell of Jackson, who was once stationed at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, will speak at this church at each Mass Sunday, 6, 7, 3:30 and 10 o'clock, for the propagation of the faith society. This work for the foreign missions is most imprtant and Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor, expresses his pleasure in having Rev. O'Connell speak for this occasion.

New Ship Yard Reported

We understand from well-authenticated source that a shipyard is to be built and operated at Logtown in the immediate future, backed by private capital of that vicinity. The new yard management will build, repair and take care of pleasure craft and will also take care of commercial work. A well-equipped shipyard of this kind on Pearl River is said to be long needed and the new enterprise will fill a long-felt want.

FOUR BALLS WILL FORM SERIES OF BENEFITS FOR LADIES

Members of Woodmen Circle to Go to Sherman, Tex— To Attend Dedication of Home and Asylum

A series of four dances will be given at Wodomen Hall, under auspices of Ladies' Woodmen Circle, for a special benefit. These dances are four in number and will take place on Saturday nights May 24, May 31 and June 14 and June 21. Kid Saucier and his New Orleans Boys will furnish the music. General Admission 75 cents, ladies 25 cents.

"We are asking the public to help us to get up the necessary amount to defray the cost of our trip from Bay St. Louis to Sherman, Texas, to attend the dedicatory exercises of the Old Folks' Home and Orphan Asylum, Ladies' Woodmen Circle, "said a prominent member of the Bay St. Louis Circle to the Echo." We are trying to send seven delegates from our circle, and we are asking the people to come to our assistance. This is the only means we have of raising sufficient funds and the series of four balls will not only furnish amusement for our pleasure-loving residents and visitors but will help a cause as well."

There is every indication each of the four balls will be well attended and that success will mark each benefit. Many visitors from along the Coast and the public from Waveland, Kiln, Logtown and Picayune and other intermediate points, reading this article, will be only too glad to come to Bay St. Louis for participation in the event and at the same time with that spirit of contribution so necessary for success.

GIANT TOMATOES SOON TO BE OFFERED TO LOCAL CONSUMERS

Seeds planted in hot beds in Janoury and now growing to a heighth of some five-feet, Mrs. Elizabeth Boudin, champion truck gardener hereabouts, has four hundred perfect tomato plants, many already beginning to produce. These plants have received careful and intelligent attention and notwithstanding lack of rain, show healthy growth and promise of ultimate success. Soon there will be plenty of tomatoes which will be offered for sale to the local consumer either from the Boudin store or from the garden.

There are three varieties planted, Ponderosa, June Pink and Brummer, the latter a newer variety of the three. However, the trio of the large and luscious variety, the kind people rather call fruit than vegetable.

In addition to tomatoes, the Boudin garden is exceedingly interesting. There are sweet pepper, egg-plant, okra and beans. Thousands of zinnia seedlings are ready for transplanting, large California variety. These are ready to be sold in any qauntity.

Incidently, the Boudin poultry yards, with seventeen hundred of chicks and chickens is well worthy of a visit.
